

Furman Magazine

Volume 59 | Issue 2

Article 33

9-1-2016

Advertisements and Back Cover

Furman University

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine>

Recommended Citation

University, Furman (2016) "Advertisements and Back Cover," Furman Magazine: Vol. 59 : Iss. 2 , Article 33.
Available at: <http://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine/vol59/iss2/33>

This End Matter is made available online by Journals, part of the Furman University Scholar Exchange (FUSE). It has been accepted for inclusion in Furman Magazine by an authorized FUSE administrator. For terms of use, please refer to the FUSE Institutional Repository Guidelines. For more information, please contact scholarexchange@furman.edu.

Get in touch. Get ahead.

Get the Furman App Now!

Connect with fellow alumni, parents, and friends

Network with Paladins in your career field and area with the Class Ring feature

Get the latest Furman news, personalized just for you

Stay in touch with everything Furman

Go to the app store and search for "The Furman App" to download.

FURMAN

University Communications
3300 Poinsett Highway
Greenville, South Carolina 29613

ADDRESS SERVICE REQUESTED

NON-PROFIT ORG.
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
HICKORY, N.C.
PERMIT #104

Still

WHAT IF EMILY DICKINSON WAS WRONG...

"Hope is the thing with feathers"
—Emily Dickinson

"It is difficult/to get the news from poems/yet men die miserably every day/for lack/ of what is found there."
— William Carlos Williams

What if Emily Dickinson was wrong...

and there were no feathers—
only accidental hollows holding hope interrupted, hidden debris of bare wings, a bruised insufficiency?

Emily would have a lot to answer for in that case,
except poetry's sufficiency elides that whole answer (dare I say hoped-for?) imperative preferring, instead, to plume itself sometimes in the hard raptures of reasonless flight, the airy real estate of both poet and metaphor that gives ground to the unsayable.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR Connie Ralston '70 enjoys pursuing the nuanced art of the table tennis smash and European traveling.
She is a retired editor and writer. ARTWORK I'm a bird now, 2015 by Furman True Inspiration Artist in Residence Janke Klompaker